FUNDING THE DEBT OF VIRGINIA.
A proposition has been made for the funding of the debt of Virginia by the Funding Association of the United States, of which ex-Secretary McCulloch is president, which is said to be acceptable even to the readjusters. The bondholders have been invited to a conference with the representatives of the State at Richmond next week.
The New York Herald states that the plan is to fund these bonds into four per cent bonds, leaving out the interest on the tax-receivable bonds, and for interest due on "poor" bonds issuing a certificate equal to two per cent. It proposes to guarantee the State against any abortive effort to fund by making a default proposition to fund a given number of bonds if the desired legislation can be obtained. Bonds are to be dated July 1, 1879, and due and payable forty-five years after date, but redeemable after ten years. The interest is to be four per cent, per annum, and both principal and interest are to be exempt from taxation. Coupons evidencing the interest on the new "four" are to be made receivable after maturity for all taxes and debts due the State. It provides for a sinking fund to redeem this bond of one-half of one per cent of the amount of the outstanding debt, to be set aside by the State from general taxation. The equity between the classes of bonds is to be settled by the bondholders themselves. The new "four" when sold are to be applied only to the payment of the outstanding debt of the State.
LETTER FROM HARPER'S FERRY.
HARPER'S FERRY, Dec. 27, 1878.
Dear Editor:—The Methodist Church in Bolivar was filled to overflowing to an entertainment on Christmas evening. It was gotten up for the children, but many grown persons participated, and the chief feature of the evening was music and dialogue. Will Bason and Mrs. Amelia Dutrow sang a beautiful duet. Messrs. Wentzell, Fossett, Spangler and Daden's vocalism was much complimented and enjoyed. The tree was laden with many valuable gifts, and the children well supplied with candy.
The Lutheran Church was crowded to a similar entertainment on the evening of the 26th. The infant class sang some well-selected pieces remarkably well. Mr. Chas. Davies made a short address and read an interesting little poem. A humorous piece, called "Proposing by Proxy," was well received, especially the part Mr. Sam. Williams took, as to be repeated. The trees were beautifully laden with presents, and the children treated to sacks of candy. The music and dialogue were elegantly gotten up, and altogether it was an enjoyable affair, with nothing to offend the most fastidious. Mr. Christ was not forgotten in memoriam.
Yours, OBERVANT.

COUNTY ITEMS.—From the Shepherdstown Register we copy the following items:
The iron fencing for the enclosure of Elmwood Cemetery has arrived.
Mr. Lorenzo Etchison has sold the farm containing 120 acres, known as the old Chapline estate, 3 1/2 miles north of town, on the Potomac river, to Mr. Bilymer, for $3,000 cash. Mr. Henry Selby has purchased the tract of land containing about 160 acres, lying on the road leading to Scenaria, and two miles north of Shepherdstown, belonging to Mr. James H. Shepherd and Mrs. Eliza Williamson, for $50 per acre.
NEWPORT, R. I., December 13.—Joshua Walker last night purchased a quantity of pork, and taking it home proceeded to salt it down. His wife soon after discovered that he had been trying to make brine with white sugar. She was seized with a fit of laughter, which continued for several minutes, when she suddenly expired. Mrs. Walker was only twenty years old, and had been but recently married.
JANUARY.—All inducements that can be offered during this month at G. H. Hagley's. Boots of all kinds, styles and sizes; an endless variety of Hats and Caps; a splendid line of Gloves, very low; a fine assortment of Ladies' and Misses' Fur; also Underwear, Hosiery, Notions, &c.
I have just received 6,000 feet of prime Yellow-Pine Inch Plank, which I offer for sale in quantities to suit buyers.
G. H. HAGLEY.
TIME FOR KILLING PARTRIDGES OUT.—Mr. Editor:—Will you inform the public that the time for Killing Partridges expires by law January 1st, 1879.
V. M. FIOR, Sec'y Game Society.
The Supreme Court of Appeals concluded its session at Wheeling on the 21st ult., and will meet at Charleston to-morrow. Judge Green, of this place, President of the Court, spent the holidays at home, and will leave to-day for Charleston.
Miss Minnie Chambers, daughter of Capt. G. W. Chambers, and Mattie O. O'Donnell, daughter of Dr. J. S. O'Donnell, of Harper's Ferry, were home for the Christmas holidays from the Hagerstown Seminary.
The Carrier of the Spirit returns hearty thanks for the liberal reception given him by the generous patrons of this paper, on the occasion of the presentation of his handsome "Christmas Chimes."
The Legislature of Colorado, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, Kansas and Nevada, which meet this month, each elect a U. S. Senator to take his seat on the 4th of March next.
B. S. DALGARNO.

PEN, INK AND SOISSORS.
—Congress re-assembles to-day.
—The West Virginia Legislature convenes to-morrow.
—Winchester is organizing a new Building Association.
—The death of Hon. Caleb Cushing, in his 79th year, is announced.
—Harper's Weekly for last week contains six sketches of the great Luray cave.
—Congressman Douglass, of Virginia, and Williams, of Michigan, are dead. They were both Democrats.
—Hon. Alonzo Garrison, the democratic Governor of Maine, just elected, is the first democratic Governor that State has had since 1854.
—Col. Edward Wilkins, ex-collector of the port of Baltimore, died in his magnificent country seat in Kent county, Maryland, a few days ago.
—Dr. Wm. A. McCormick has been appointed secretary of the Winchester and Potomac Railroad Company, in place of the late Wm. L. Bent.
—A bust of John Brown, by Miss Edmond Lewis, the colored sculptor, is now on exhibition in New York. It has been made a present to a colored minister.
—Mrs. A. C. Neal, wife of Rev. A. A. P. Neal, of the M. E. Church South, died suddenly a few days since, of neuralgia of the heart, at her residence in Baltimore.
—Captain W. F. Dandridge, of Winchester, has been appointed agent of the Ohio and Mississippi railway express at Cincinnati, and general agent of the Marietta and Cincinnati express.
—The partnership under the name of the Independent Printing Co., of Martinsburg, has expired by limitation, and the Independent passed into the hands of J. Nelson Wilson and W. T. Logan.
—Mr. J. W. Ferguson, editor and proprietor of the Waynesboro (Va.) Tribune, has sold that paper to Dr. W. J. Jones, who was formerly its editor, and Mr. Everett Donaghe, a practical printer, of Staunton.
—Wm. Lynch, son of Wm. B. Lynch, editor of the Leesburg Washingtonian, while skating near Lexington, on Christmas Day, was drowned. He was endeavoring to rescue a companion who had broken through the ice.
—President Hayes, of the Pennsylvania railroad in Maryland, left Cumberland a few days ago for Moorefield, W. Va., for the purpose of consulting with the residents of West Virginia in relation to the proposed extension of the new railroad to Moorefield.
—Gen. Thomas L. Rosser, a graduate of West Point, who rose from the position of lieutenant in the Confederate service, has been appointed resident engineer in charge of the Northern Pacific railway, on which, soon after the war, he sought and obtained employment as a day laborer.
—The Point Pleasant Register says that four teams loaded with produce, arrived at Staunton, Va., Wednesday week, from Pocahontas county, West Virginia. The drivers reported a snow storm in the Alleghenies of almost unprecedented severity. West of Hightown, in the mountains, the party with thirteen men were two days cutting three miles through the drifts, which were eleven feet deep in many places and covered with a crust of ice and sleet so thick that a two-mile team and loaded wagon could drive over it, but the six mile team would break through and go almost out of sight.
—A Washington correspondent of the Evening Commercial states that when the army reorganization bill comes up for consideration there will be submitted an amendment calling for the organization of a national militia to take the place of the State militia in its present imperfect condition. The proposition comes from the South, and is said to have been suggested by the ex-Confederate General Bradley T. Johnson. The scheme is to provide for the organization and equipment of a militia force of one thousand men from each congressional district, who shall be constituted into brigades, divisions and corps, according to States, the regimental organization to be made by the president from the regular army. Each man enlisted to serve five years and be subject to parade duty at the orders of the division, brigade, regimental and company commanders. The enlisted men to receive one dollar per day for time spent in drill and annual encampments.
